- 1 The proposal is contrary to Policy DES5 of the Department's 'A Planning Strategy for Rural Northern Ireland' in that a building on this site would not integrate into the countryside, as the site is unable to provide a suitable degree of enclosure due to the lack of sufficient boundaries or any other means of achieving satisfactory integration, and as a consequence would, if permitted, have an adverse impact on the landscape by reason of its undue prominence.
- 2 The proposal is contrary to Policy DES7 of the Department's Planning

Strategy for Rural Northern Ireland in that the development would, if permitted, adversely affect the visual amenity and character of the countryside by the creation of ribbon development along Bellaghy Road

- 3 The proposal is contrary to Policy DES6 of the Department's Planning Strategy for Rural Northern Ireland in that the development when considered in the context of existing development, would, if permitted, result in a detrimental change to the rural character of this area of countryside by reason of build up.
- 4 The proposed development would, if permitted, prejudice the safety and convenience of road users since it would not be possible within the application site to provide adequate sight lines where the proposed access joins Bellaghy Road

- 1 The proposal is contrary to Policies SP6, SP19, HOU8 and DES5 of the Department's 'A Planning Strategy for Rural Northern Ireland' in that a building on this site would not integrate into the countryside, as the site is unable to provide a suitable degree of enclosure due to the lack of sufficient boundaries or any other means of achieving satisfactory integration, and as a consequence would, if permitted, have an adverse impact on the landscape by reason of its undue prominence.

- 2 The proposal is contrary to Policies SP6, DES6 and HOU8 of the Department's Planning Strategy for Rural Northern Ireland in that the development when considered in the context of existing development, would, if permitted, result in a detrimental change to the rural character of this area of countryside by reason of build up.

03.4 PPS14 – SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT IN THE COUNTRYSIDE JUDICIAL REVIEW

The Chief Executive advised members that Omagh District Council has invited Northern Ireland Councils to join with Omagh, Strabane and Cookstown Councils in challenging PPS14 proposals, which will have implications for the sustainability of both urban and rural communities across Northern Ireland.

Previous approaches have been made to Council by other interested parties regarding the issue of a joint challenge, which Council decided against. The Chief Executive provided members with an estimate of the cost that might be incurred in taking the action suggested by Omagh District Council (up to a maximum of approximately £50,000) and asked members to consider what action should be taken.

It was proposed by Councillor Finlay, seconded by Alderman Campbell and that the invitation from Omagh District Council to join with Omagh, Strabane and Cookstown Councils in challenging PPS14 proposals should be noted.

03.5 PLANNING (CONSERVATION AREAS) (CONSULTATION) REGULATIONS (NI) 2006

The Chief Executive advised members, for information, of the regulations in connection with the above, made on 31st July 2006.

03.6 REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY FOR NI – 5 YEAR REVIEW

The Department of Regional Development invites comments, by 1st September, on the first five-year review of the Regional Development Strategy. A copy of the Executive Summary is attached. The following comments are offered.

From an economic and rural perspective much of the contents of the document are to be commended. The document appears to pay cognisance to a joined-up cross-departmental approach. The following are a few comments, which are however worth making.

- The determination of rural NI, i.e., everything outside Belfast and Londonderry, is perhaps a bit all-encompassing. However there is the incongruity in that even with this definition Ballymoney is still not classified as a rural town.
- The objective of developing and promoting a balanced and equitable pattern of sustainable development should be commended.
- Reference is made of the development of ‘...corridors...’ to achieve more balanced growth throughout the region along with ease of access, but the A26 isn’t specifically mentioned whereas others are.
- Whilst it is recognised that Belfast is the main economic heart of the province it is clearly stated that ‘...there is a need for balanced development with a degree of decentralisation in order to achieve sustainable patterns of development.’
- However it is also stated that the ‘...emerging development plan proposals are focusing economic development opportunities in cities and main and local hubs’.
- Ballymoney however is unlikely to have been identified as one of the main hubs (with a population of > 10,000), which it is stated have the potential to develop as ‘growth poles’.
- The RDS places great emphasis on the importance of rural NI as a principal component area to maximise the potential of the region. In relation to the rural landscape the strategy seeks to develop an attractive and prosperous rural area, based on a well-balanced and integrated approach to the development of town, village and countryside in order to sustain a strong vibrant rural community which contributes to the overall well-being of the region as a whole.
- Choice of affordable housing has been identified as essential to encourage the development of balanced rural communities and to stymie rural depopulation.
- The effective moratorium on new builds and on many commercial building conversions in rural locations doesn’t seem consistent with the above two statements.
- The RDS recognises that between 2001 and 2003 the percentage increase in population has been 5 times as much in small settlements and open countryside as in main towns and in acknowledging the pressures this has and will continue to create these changes will be used to direct change to policy development.

- The RDS also recognises the need for a strong network of vibrant main and small towns to support rural catchments.
- In line with the 'Vision' Document and the existing and proposed Rural Development Strategy, the RDS supports rural diversification, enhanced access to and use of information technology and the building of capacity through the re-skilling and up-skilling of the rural population. Essential given the comments above.
- The document's desire to maximise the use of brown-field sites in housing and commercial business development is limited outside the larger towns.
- Whilst outperforming mainland GB in many instances in recent years the NI economy is very heavily skewed towards the service sector with manufacturing and textile jobs having fallen sharply. This shift impacts upon the land, property and infrastructural needs of NI, with lower spatial requirements and more likely to be attracted towards city/large town centres, further skewing employment opportunity locations away from rural locations.
- The above has subsequent implications for job type availability. A shift away from manufacturing means less lower skilled job opportunities and increased numbers of higher skilled (knowledge-based) posts. This movement has a number of socio-economic implications, including current location, skills level and potential mobility of some of the working population. Furthermore this may have the potential of moving people away from smaller towns making many more dormitory towns with little GDP generation and therefore income spend.
- It is clear from this analysis that effective and strategic economic development is pivotal in community development and in planning determination.
- NI is totally dependant on a road infrastructure to transport goods and people. This document forecasts a doubling of vehicular traffic by 2025 but little reference is made to infrastructural improvement other than in the areas of greatest population and not NI wide.

The Chief Executive advised members to consider that additional points need to be addressed as follows:

* The press and members of the public retired from the meeting, the time being 12.14 pm.

a) Section 9      Review of Housing Growth Indicators (HGIs)

Ballymoney Borough Council remains bitterly disappointed at the failure of the recent review to increase the HGI for the district, to take account of the sustained demand for new housing over the past seven years. Council would prefer to see the Area Plan identify "Reserve Phasing" so that there is clarity about which land will be developed when existing phase 1 lands are exhausted, without the need for an alteration to the Area Plan. Neither of the proposed options (9.10) - "Strategic Direction of Growth" or "Strategic Land Reserves" will be satisfactory, as each is likely to require a further public enquiry before being implemented. It cannot be efficient to put in place a mechanism, which is designed to need two public enquiries during the life of an Area Plan.

b) Section 10 Strategic employment locations (SELS)

Ballymoney Borough Council welcomes the decision to scrap the identification of SELs (10.23), as government has done little in the past to direct employment towards small district councils like Ballymoney, preferring instead to see businesses locate in the city councils of Belfast and Derry. However the document still cites these two cities and the other main hubs (10.20) as having the necessary infrastructure, labour and land already zoned for industry. Council would argue that Ballymoney town should be added to this list as it has excellent transport links to the main cities and existing zoned green-and brown-field industrial land. Its population has been growing at above the Northern Ireland average for several years. The 2001 census figure for the town was 9009 and with growth of 1.7% in 2004/05 alone, the population is now close to 10,000. Due to the decline of the traditional industries this district needs to attract new investment and Council believes that government should be seeking to strengthen the Northern Corridor as an employment destination, to counterbalance the Belfast-Dublin corridor and ensure balanced growth across Northern Ireland.

It was proposed by Councillor Finlay, seconded by Councillor McGuigan and that the comments circulated be submitted to the Department of Regional Development including points (a) and (b) above.

03.7 STRATEGIC ROAD IMPROVEMENT PROGRAMME
Expanding the Strategic Road Improvement Programme 2015

DRD Minister, David Cairns, has issued for public consultation a proposed £400M package of major road upgrades. Responses are invited by 29th September. The Minister will consider comments submitted before finalising the programme in the autumn. A copy of the consultation document was circulated.

The package of improvements is part of the ongoing investment being undertaken in Northern Ireland's infrastructure. It is being funded as part of the Investment Strategy for NI in which an extra £400M has been earmarked for major roadworks to the trunk road network during the period up to 2015. This is over and above the £1B already in the pipeline and means that proposed investment in Northern Ireland's strategic road network now stands at £1.4B – the highest in real terms for over 30 years.

Included in the additional schemes proposed to deal with bottlenecks on highly trafficked routes is the dualling of the A26 from Ballymoney to Coleraine (7km of standard dual carriageway between the Portrush Road Roundabout at Ballymoney to Windyhall, Coleraine). The current programme includes 7 km of standard dual carriageway A26 Glarryford – A44 dualling.

It was agreed that matter would be deferred for one month in order for comments to be considered prior to submission.

03.8 CONSULTATION ON DRAFT PRIMARY LEGISLATION Proposal for an order in council “The Charities (NI) Order 2006.

In 2000 the Minister for Social Development gave a commitment to review Charities legislation in Northern Ireland, to consider changes as to how the voluntary and community charitable sector is regulated and whether to establish a Northern Ireland Charity Commission.

This Order has been made under the NI Act 2000. It provides a definition of “charity” and “charitable purpose”, establishes the Charity Commission for NI and the Charity Tribunal for NI, creates a register of charities, provides for a new form of charitable body (a charitable incorporated organization) and deals with the regulation of charities and public charitable collections.

The consultation document is available from the Chief Executive’s office on request.

This being all the business, the meeting closed at 12.20 pm.
