We recognise that businesses need easy access to relevant information and support to survive and thrive in the current climate. That's why we're inviting you to a FREE business event organised by cross-border business development body InterTradeIreland. The event is being held on Wednesday 3rd June, Galgorm Hotel, Galgorm, Ballymena from 8.30am - 11.30am.

- Hear what advice Terence Brannigan, Non Executive Director of resource™, has for SMEs during the downturn. Resource is Northern Ireland's largest private sector employer and the UK and Ireland's most innovative support services company with an impressive history of delivering great results to multi-site blue chip clients.
- Find out how Mark Nodder, Managing Director of The Wright Group, is steering his company through the current economic climate. The Wright Group is the United Kingdom's leading independent supplier of accessible buses for public transport systems and generated revenue of over £123m last year.
- Get practical information and advice for your business. Find out how InterTradeIreland can help you identify new customers and increase your sales, improve your products and processes to bolster your bottom line or get expert advice on raising and managing finance.
- Hear how local businesses have benefited from InterTradeIreland programmes. We have already invested over £200k through our programmes creating trade and business development opportunities estimated at £2m in total.

For further information on the event and to register at www.intertradeireland.com or call 028 9023 5001. Places are limited so book early to avoid disappointment.

We look forward to meeting you there.

At times like these we're supporting North East companies.
